

» Step 6

WORKSHEET

Monitor and Evaluate

Review the information collected and assembled during Steps 1–3. Now you have the information you need to compare the current available resources (supply) with the needed resources (demand) for the future—this is a “gap analysis.” This comprehensive set of information is a “snapshot” of critical factors and characteristics of your agency and community that describe and impact the workforce. You have identified workforce gaps through a planning process of collecting relevant information, reflecting on critical questions, and interpreting the importance and implications of what you have learned about your staff, agency, and community.

STOP ⚡ Download, save, and work in your saved worksheet!

In developing your plan to monitor and evaluate the impact of your workforce development Action Plan consider the following:

What you plan to monitor and evaluate:

- Program activities.
- Internal and external developments.
- Environmental changes.
- Trends (ongoing supply/demand metrics).

What methods you will use and with what frequency:

- Meetings, surveys, focus groups.
- Administrative data.

How you will revise and revisit your plan, considering:

- Alignment with other strategic planning by agency and partners.
- Success/failure and status of Action Plan strategies.
- Communication Plan and Ongoing Leadership and Staff Support.

Complete your draft Action Plan by adding the information from Step 6 to your Plan.

Additional examples of workforce development models, tools and templates:

Georgia Department of Administrative Services—Workforce Planning

Washington State Human Resources—Workforce Planning Guide

Office of Personnel Management

Self-Assessment Workbook for Building Stable and Quality Child Welfare Workforce

Workforce Planning Portal

Workforce Development Process—Fairfax Virginia